Dayton Police Believed Near Solution in Hotel Murder

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Police today appeared to be on the verge of cracking the Gibbons Hotel murder case. One of two men being held in Knoxville, Tenn., has implicated the other in the blue-gown slaying of Harvey Whetstone, 31-year-old consulting engineer for a Chicago firm, investigators say.

Whetstone's nude body was discovered by a bellboy early Saturday in his eighth floor room at the hotel here. Whetstone, of Lombard, Ill., was lying on a bed, his hands tied behind him and the rest of his body trussed with his own clothing.

There was a bruise above his eye and the room was spattered with blood.

In Knoxville, John David Holden, 35, of Mascot, Tenn., and Michael Hugh Compton, 21, of Knoxville, were arrested by the FBI Monday on charges of interstate transportation of a stolen vehicle.

Dayton Detective Lt. Richard C. Grundish said Holden told the FBI that he and an unidentified man found Compton in a Dayton hotel room with a man's body.

"Let's get out of here," Compton reportedly told Holden and the other man.

The three fled to the Dayton Municipal Building parking lot across the street where, according to Holden, they stole a city car.

The car, bearing stolen Michigan license plates, was found in Knoxville Monday.

Grundish said Holden gave this account to the FBI:

Compton "picked up a man" in a Dayton bar Friday night. Compton went with the man, known as Toni Harvey at the bar but presumably Whetstone, to the latter's hotel room.

Holden and the other man followed shortly thereafter by previous arrangement. When they got to the room, Holden said, Compton was there and so was a body. Grundish said Compton has not admitted the slaying. The third man who was with Compton and Holden is still sought.

Whetstone was a consulting engineer for the Alexander Proudfoot Co. of Chicago. He had been in Dayton about a month, working on a scheduling study for the city bus line.

Whetstone, who was married but had no children, checked into the Gibbons Hotel Friday night. He told the room clerk he expected to stay around six months.

But slightly more than four hours later about 2 a.m., a bellboy noticed the door ajar at Whetstone's room. He looked in and saw the trussed body.

Besides the clothing used to tie up the victim, none other was in the room, nor was there any luggage.

Police said Compton and his companions are wanted for questioning in a series of car thefts, strong-arm robberies and burglaries from Knoxville and Memphis, Tenn., to El Paso, Tex.

Compton and another man almost were picked up by police in Memphis Saturday night but Compton got away. A tipster then notified Knoxville police that he was headed there to rob a supermarket. When arrested, police said, Compton had two guns in his possession.

Unemployment Puts Pressure On Congress

President-Elect Gets
More Advice about
Growing Joblessness

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The new president-elect faces two major economic problems as he prepares for his inauguration next week. One is a recession at home. The other is a continuing flow of U.S. gold abroad. Here's a report on his likely approach toward the two big economic issues, second in a five-part series on plans and problems of the new administration. It is written by an Associated Press reporter who specializes in business and economics news beats in the nation's capital.

Ten days before he takes office, the president-elect already has been advised by a number of task forces to take steps aimed at various and quite different goals but that also add up to much more federal spending.

And that, at least in theory, usually translates into making more jobs — at least for the time being.

A specific salvo offered for the jobless ailment is an increase in unemployment payments or their extension over longer periods.

An intermediate cure proposed is a cut in income tax payments or a moratorium on withholding taxes. This is aimed at giving consumers more money to spend, thus increasing effective demand for goods and services and as a final result stimulating the hiring of workers.

More government spending would have a longer-term effect, since such projects take time to get under way.

What the president-elect will recommend to Congress, and what the law makers will do about it, remains to be seen.

More defense spending seems sure of being voted. The hassle will be on how to spend the additional funds.

Considerable controversy may greet any proposals by the White House for a large federal outlay for education, whether for teachers' pay or for school construction.

Increased foreign aid spending is favored by those worried by the Communist inroads in Africa, Asia and Latin America. Opponents have a new talking point just now — more foreign aid could boost the deficit in our international payments and lay the base for still more loss of our gold. The final stake: confidence in the American dollar.

More spending for health and welfare projects, especially just now for medical care for the aging, is being vigorously pushed. Federal outlays to spur housing construction, a speedup in highway spending, more slum clearing projects, increased development of natural resources — all are pushed by various task forces, or by state and local governments, or by private groups dedicated to them.

Even while Congress is considering whatever such requests the new president may pass along, another problem may be rising.

Incoming Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon says he wants a balanced federal budget, or at the very least a deficit small enough to add but little to inflationary pressures that would undermine the dollar.

He could find himself in conflict with any Cabinet colleagues who want big spending programs for their departments.

New Chief's Plans, Problems

Kennedy Is Asked To Solve 2 Big U.S. Economic Issues

Editor's note — President-elect John F. Kennedy faces two major economic problems as he prepares for his inauguration next week. One is a recession at home. The other is a continuing flow of U.S. gold abroad. Here's a report on his likely approach toward the two big economic issues, second in a five-part series on plans and problems of the new administration. It is written by an Associated Press reporter who specializes in business and economics news beats in the nation's capital.

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP)—As a presidential candidate, John F. Kennedy urged a faster-growing economy. As the president his first problem will be to make it grow.

The economy hasn't been growing at all since mid-1960, it has slipped into its fourth recession since World War II and most forecasters see little hope of an upturn before spring or summer.

Determined to hurry the recovery, Kennedy is expected to unveil an antirecession program soon after he is inaugurated on Jan. 20.

Even as he does so, however, Kennedy will keep one eye cocked over his shoulder at the second major economic problem he will inherit—the whopping deficits in the U.S. balance of international payments.

With Americans and their government paying out more money abroad than they receive, foreigners are collecting extra dollars with which they can buy American gold. The payments deficit approached $4 billion in 1960 and gold sales to foreigners hit $1.9 billion.

Dealing with this problem cannot be postponed, because it is causing foreign anxiety about the future of the dollar, the keystone in the free world economy. A sour dollar obviously would wreck Kennedy's plans for enhancing the nation's prestige, not to speak of other effects.

Were the Eisenhower administration remaining in office, its attack on the recession might be inhibited to an important extent by the gold problem.

Eisenhower backers say, for example, that such traditional recession cures as pump priming (red ink spending by Uncle Sam) might worsen the gold situation by leaning in the direction of inflation. Rising prices would make it more difficult to sell U.S. goods abroad and earn the money that could reduce the payments deficit and buttress the dollar.

Kennedy, while deeply concerned about the gold-payments problem, will give first priority to the recession. He is expected to prime the economic pump, probably through a speedup in defense spending and road building stimulation of housing and expanded unemployment benefits.

President Eisenhower has planned for a balanced budget in the coming fiscal year, and Kennedy has declared himself generally in favor of that objective, too. Whether it can be achieved, however, seems certain to hinge on actual economic developments, as well as presidential intent. The Eisenhower administration has experienced several big deficit years due mainly to business slumps. Should emergency government action become necessary, economists believe Kennedy will not hesitate to propose them — including deficit-spending measures.

While the incoming president may trim his antirecession program to a limited extent because of the gold situation, he will not let gold call the tune.

Should the recession get severe enough, Kennedy might even ask Congress for a temporary tax cut to give the public more spending money. With Eisenhower, this would be a most unlikely maneuver.

In the final analysis, Kennedy may be willing to take a few risks with the gold situation because of his avowed determination to promote a dynamic economy able to afford broader social welfare programs. This goal will have equal rank with his foreign policy objectives.

The President-elect made this clear during the campaign by repeatedly arguing there can be no strength abroad without strength at home.

Indeed, Kennedy contends the image of a vital, expanding America would do much to dispel nagging foreign fears about the dollar.

Even so, he won't be able to let the gold problem slide particularly since his antirecession measures will tend to raise new questions about the gold situation.

Eisenhower has attacked the payments deficit by curbing federal spending abroad, calling for reducing the number of military dependents overseas, promoting exports, and urging more help from other nations in financing the free world's defenses and development.

Kennedy may make some modifications but won't undo the whole package unless there is a significant reduction in the gold drain. Since foreigners bought more than $370 million of U.S. gold last month, that reduction is yet to come.

Finally, even as he worries about gold and the recession, Kennedy will be pushing for a long-term economic growth program and an attack on the persistent unemployment problem.

In one of the sharpest shifts of policy direction in the economic field, the Eisenhower administration's preoccupation with fighting inflation is expected to be subordinated to new emphasis on full employment and economic expansion.

NEXT: The Congress

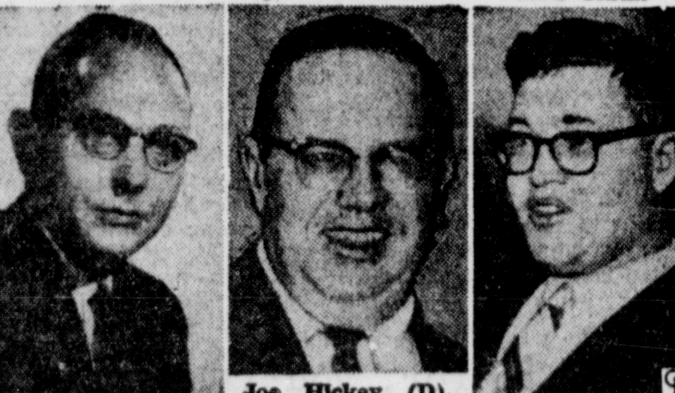

THESE NINE new U.S. senators have these distinctive political backgrounds. Two were appointed during last session.

Edward V. Long (D), Missouri, was appointed last year on death of incumbent senator. Benjamin A. Smith II (D), Massachusetts, was appointed to seat of John F. Kennedy, the president-elect. Quentin Q. Burdick (D), North Dakota, moved up from the House last year as result of senator's death.

U.S. Farm Families Borrow $420 Million from Ag Agency

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm families borrowed $420 million last year from the Farmers Home Administration field offices. This compares with $333.5 million loaned by these offices in 1959.

The Agriculture Department, reporting this today, attributed the rise in these loans chiefly to an increased need for such things as equipment and livestock.

During 1960, according to the department, about 173,000 farmers used Farmers Home Credit. Collections for this period were estimated at $305 million, compared with $317 million in 1959.

Loans outstanding were estimated at $1,125,000,000 as of Dec. 31, 1960, compared with $1,061,000,000 a year earlier.

Most farm operating loans made by the agency are made at a 5 per cent interest rate.

Meanwhile, the incoming Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman will inherit an expanded rural development program from Secretary Ezra Taft Benson.

The program was started in 1956-57 on an experimental basis. Its aim was to provide low income farming areas with technical assistance in promoting farm improvement, industrial development and expansion of training and health facilities.

President Eisenhower, in accepting Benson's resignation this week, made special note of this program as one he considered an outstanding contribution to agriculture by Benson.

Castro's Cuba, despite its expressed grievances against the United States, bought plenty of land from this country during 1960.

U. S. lard shipments to Cuba last year, according to the Agriculture Department's magazine, Foreign Crops and Markets, were the second highest on record. Exports to Cuba in January -

October totaled 176 million pounds, compared with 187 million in the same period of 1959, said the magazine.

A general ban on exports to Cuba does not include drug and food items, and Cuba takes more than a third of U.S. lard exports. However, the magazine said Cuba is considering lard purchases elsewhere, or substituting vegetable oils.

Vault Burglary Suspect Arrested

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — One man is in custody on an accessory charge in the $421,961 armored car vault burglary, and police say they recovered $9,980 of the Dec. 27 haul.

Jose Lino Alvarez, 42, was arrested at his home Saturday night. An employee of the Rasdale Armored Car Service at the time of the theft, he was fired that day after allegedly refusing to take a lie detector test or answer questions.

Officers said that after they seized Alvarez at his home, they found in an east Tampa house a cardboard candy box containing part of the loot. The house is owned by Margaret Dorado, a sister of Alvarez.

Alvarez was charged with aiding and abetting other persons in the burglary, largest in Florida's history.

The death rate among America policyholders of ordinary life insurance for 1960 is estimated at 6 for every 1,000 persons. This is less by a small fraction than 1959, and represent a decrease of about one-fifth over the last 40 years.

Seven presidents of the United States died in office.

HEART FUN—National Heart Fund "Sweethearts" Donna (left) and Debbie Horst share a treat in Philadelphia on being chosen to represent the fund's national appeal for funds this year. The identical twins, 7 years old in March, both had identical heart operations in 1959. That loving cup they're using is one of 14 they won in baby shows.

Triumph for Morality

Authorities at the Louvre in Paris, that treasure house of the art of the ages, have recently completed restoration of 22 rooms which are being used to exhibit nineteenth-century French paintings.

A bulletin from the French Information Service describes the marvelous results after years of preparation. It includes this remark: "... the detailed arrangement of a setting in which all nudity, which would have been pleasing 25 years ago but which is considered poor taste today, has been done away with. ..."

New Name for Steady Economy

Economists are never at a loss for new words and phrases to add to their jargon. Faced by today's almost unprecedented business and industrial paradox on the North American continent — a high level of prosperity and considerable unemployment, fear and uncertainty about an essentially sound economy — they have come up with rolling readjustment.

This is a nice bit of alliteration which can have no precise meaning but has the advantage of carrying no suggestion that business is headed for anything that is bad.

Squeaky Wheel Gets Grease

Knowledge that a new administration is about to take over in Washington is causing wheels to squeak around the world. Recently Pakistan threatened to gravitate toward the reds if it didn't get as much aid as India. And now Brazil is calling attention to its small sugar quota.

In the redistribution of the former 824,000-ton quota for Cuba, Brazil was given 11,500 tons. The Brazil government regards that as virtually insulting in view of Brazil's size and importance in the Western Hemisphere. Brazil had hoped a much

Need Educational Rebirth

By George Sokolsky

The principal value of the Kennedy Administration can be that it need not base itself on the Roosevelt or Truman Administrations. It is under no obligations to the Eisenhower Administration.

It can start fresh. It can start afresh in many fields and correct two decades of accumulated errors, without the need for criticizing anyone. It can be wholly objective if it chooses to be.

For instance, the new Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare need not enter into the controversy as to Federal control of education. Much has developed in that area which avoids the term, control. But what is most serious is that many persons hold degrees who are uneducated; many have won honor in a college that is as elementary as a high school. In a word, standards are not uniform and some are too low.

What does the B. A. represent? Suppose a girl comes along for a teaching job, does her B. A. represent anything in particular? Or if she also has an M. A., does that by itself represent anything? It becomes necessary to ask where she got these degrees and in what subjects she majored and what those departments actually amount to. It is not a question of uniformity but of quality.

'Wingspread' Spreads

RANCINE, Wis. (AP) — Wingspread, an impressive structure termed by its late designer, Frank Lloyd Wright, as the "last of the prairie houses," has opened as a full scale conference center.

The building, completed 22 years ago as a private home on a 12-acre site overlooking Lake Michigan, was presented to the Johnson Foundation by Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Johnson.

The foundation is described as a philanthropic organization engaged in a broad program of assistance to educational and charitable organizations.

The male lion dominates the lion family. The lioness is the breadwinner, hunting prey. But when she brings it in, the lion eats first, the lioness next and the cubs get the scraps.

Racketeer Ordered To Serve Term

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Common Pleas Judge G. H. Birrell Monday held that Mike Farah, Warren racketeer figure, must serve a four-month sentence in Trumbull County and pay a fine of $200 for an assault and battery conviction.

The sentencing followed a decision after appealing the case to the U. S. Supreme Court. The Supreme Court of Ohio had previously upheld the Dec. 1959 court decision.

Farah was charged originally with assault with the intent to kill by Jean Blair, former county Republican chairman and member of the Board of Elections.

The sentence was imposed by the court when a jury found Farah innocent of assault with intent to kill, but guilty of assault and battery instead.

The judge turned down a request by Farah's attorneys for a mitigation of the sentence on the basis of newly discovered evidence. Judge Birrell contended the testimony would have helped the jury in reaching the same decision it has already handed down.

The sentence stemmed from a fight between Farah and Blair in June 1959 on the lawn of Farah's home.

Ohioan Loses Tax Dispute In U.S. Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Ohioan who tried to deduct part of the national debt and other government costs on his income tax return lost his dispute Monday with the Internal Revenue Service.

U. S. Tax Court Judge Norman O. Tietjens ruled that the deductions by Willard Bostick of Bedford, Ohio, were improper.

According to the judge, Bostick earned $6,561.58 from the S. K. Wellman Co. in 1957 and $5,746.17 in 1958.

But for those two years, the judge said, he took such deductions as these:

Bad debt, charged to two million government employees—$100,000.

"Spare time value equal to two judges"—$45,000.

Bad debt, part damage, caused by Revenue Service—$100,000.

Approximately "11 per cent of total tax paid interest on debt"—$550.

Bostick explained this last item by saying:

"As I spent about $5,000 (in 1958), then $5,000 times 11 per cent (apparently equals $550)."

In addition, the judge said Bostick claims he was greatly overpaid.

The amount of tax he owes will be computed later.

LIBERALS' TARGET—All this news you read about putting a rein on the House Rules Committee — under chairmanship of Rep. Howard W. Smith (D), Virginia — has Rep. William M. Colmer (above) as a "purge" target. Colmer, the Mississippi Democrat who campaigned against President-elect Kennedy, and Smith and four Republicans have banded together to block legislation in the past. The Democratic liberals are trying to find a way to break up what they feel is an unholy alliance, either by adding liberals or getting Colmer bumped off the committee.

Bears Like Comfort

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Mont. (AP) — A black mother bear and two cubs have taken a season's lease on a steam-heated "apartment" in Yellowstone Park.

Their snores can be heard above a hole heated by an active hot spring.

Park rangers say it has been used by hibernating bears for the last 10 years.

They Go by Bus

MADISON, N. J. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. William A. Britten and their three active children love to take free bus rides.

This might pose a problem for most families, but it doesn't for the Brittens. They own their own bus. They purchased the 1947-model, 25-passenger bus recently and had the interior rebuilt. Now it's a mobile cottage with beds for five, a galley, bathroom, and dining area.

Young Executives Coming to Fore

NEW YORK (AP)—Life begins at 40 in Washington these days — and also in many business fields. In government, men in their forties are taking over, in the White House, and in many cabinet and other top posts.

But industry also can muster a sizable list of companies headed by men in their forties, and by some even younger. They have come up fast in their fields just as did President-elect Kennedy, 43, in his — and as did the photo-finish loser, Nixon, 47, in the same field of politics.

Spanning the industrial and political endeavors will be Robert S. McNamara, who at 44 is quitting as president of Ford Motors to become defense secretary.

In industry there are 1,600 heads of successful enterprises who are members of the Young Presidents' Organization, in which membership lapses at the age of 49.

The great majority of corporate chiefs are well above that age, of course. For most, it has been a long climb up the executive ladder. For many the tenure of the top office will be short because it has been won only when close to the retirement age, or upon the death of an incumbent, also at a mellow age.

But throughout the nation's business history there have always been exceptions, young men who have risen fast. Some have headed young companies. Others have taken over established big concerns.

Some of today's young executives run enterprises owned by their families.

Many others have made their way up in concerns in which they own little stock. An example is McNamara who climbed to the Ford presidency a month before being tapped for the defense job.

Some have become the youthful president of a company that absorbed a smaller one he was running. An example: Norman E. Alexander, 46, who became president of Sun Chemical three years ago when it took over Ansbacher-Siegle, a pigment manufacturing firm that he had headed since he was 36.

In his three years at Sun Chemical sales have risen from $42 million a year to $60 million. He advocates decentralization and delegation of authority and use of management training programs. Today Alexander also is president of TV and radio stations KXLY in Spokane, Wash., and KELP in El Paso, Texas, and of Federal Color Inc. of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Hundreds of other men in their forties now run up and coming enterprises in widely varied fields scattered across the nation. Here is the merest handful of examples:

Miles B. Lane, now 48, became president of the Citizens' and Southern National Bank in Atlanta, Ga., when 34. The bank's net worth has gone from $50 million to $650 million during his regime.

He preaches the humanizing of banks and also seeking out opportunities to lend rather than waiting for borrowers to drop in.

Richard Leghorn, 41, is president of Itek Corp., a space age technological firm at Waltham, Mass., which he helped start three years ago.

Henry Albrecht, 48, started the Waco-Porter Corp. of Minneapolis from scratch in 1945. It makes portable metal scaffolding with sales now more than $4 million a year.

Beverly Howard, 46, president of Hawthorne Aviation, an aircraft sales and flight training concern, became its head when he was 21. He started his business career as a grease monkey.

Many other presidents have yet to see 40. Ed White, 32, became head of Bowmar Instrument, Fort Wayne, Ind., nine years ago with $2000 in capital and an idea: That a small specialty firm could compete with electronic giants in making miniaturized aircraft and missile control components. Gross sales last year were $5.5 million.

Arnold Weber, 34, president of the Registered Shirt Laundry Association, induces some 1,000 laundries to buy his shirts wholesale and sell them to customers who pledge to have them washed only where purchased.

The earth takes about one-thousandth of a second longer to rotate around its axis today than it did three years ago.

British Hold Trio in Theft Of Secrets

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard have obtained a court order to take the fingerprints of three mysterious persons — believed to be Canadians — accused of stealing top research secrets of the British navy for a foreign power.

The three were bookseller Peter Kroger, 50; his wife, Helen, 50; and Gordon A. Lonsdale, 37, who described himself as a company director.

The court order was obtained at a hearing at which the three appeared with two codefendants, Henry F. Houghton 55, and E'hel Gee, 46, both civilian employees of the top secret naval research station on the English Channel coast.

Detective Supt. George Smith of Scotland Yard told the magistrate the Krogers and Lonsdale had refused to let the police take their fingerprints and there is a "question of their nationality."

Smith did not disclose the foreign country for which the group was believed to be spying nor did he give any details of the stolen secrets.

Smith testified he arrested Houghton, Miss Gee and Lonsdale Saturday after seeing the woman pass Lonsdale a basket containing two parcels. Smith did not disclose what the parcels contained.

Later in the day Smith arrested the Krogers at their home.

The naval station where Houghton and Miss Gee worked is near Portland Bill. There have been rumors that the United States may ask British permission to establish a Polaris missile submarine station there.

Coleman Gets Nod as Ohio Dem Chief

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Democratic State Committee Monday elected William L. Coleman of Marysville as national committeeman to fill the vacancy created by the death last month of Albert A. Horstman of Dayton.

Coleman also is Democratic state chairman. A move to elect U. S. Sen. Stephen M. Young of Cleveland as national committeeman collapsed during the voting.

When the count reached 28-1 in favor of Coleman, Miss Virginia Weiss of Newark moved for a unanimous ballot in favor of the state chairman.

Miss Weiss earlier had supported the nomination of Young by Chat Patterson of Cleveland Heights, and seconded by Dan Guffy of Cleveland.

Miss Weiss also said that Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, mentioned as a nominee for national committeeman, had thrown his support to Young.

George D. Nye, former lieutenant governor, nominated Coleman, who was seconded by John P. Kelly of Toledo and Robert W. Reider of Port Clinton.

Horstman had been national committeeman from Ohio since 1944.

In the only other business transacted, the committee adopted a resolution to seek second class mailing privileges for its official publication, Demofacts. Coleman explained that such classification would cut mailing costs from two cents to one-fourth cent an issue.

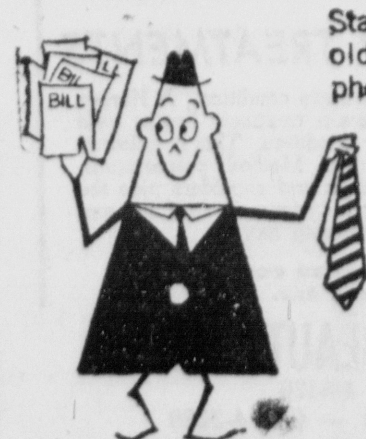

Present circulation was reported to be about 15,000, with only 4,000 copies mailed. The expectation is that circulation would be about 20,000 with mailing privileges.

LEROY WHITFIELD

(In co-operation with J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, this paper is running descriptive articles on the criminals wanted by the FBI.)

LEROY WHITFIELD is being sought by the FBI for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for murder following the vicious knife slaying of his common-law wife's aunt in April 1959 at Lake City, Fla.

The fugitive allegedly was stabbing his common-law wife when the aunt came in and she was killed with a single knife thrust. The other woman was left for dead but recovered. Whitfield fled, chased by bloodhounds. A federal warrant, issued for his arrest on May 1, 1959, in Jacksonville, charged him with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for murder.

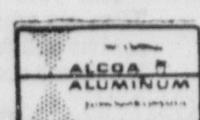

Also known as Leroy Parker, the wanted man has been employed as laborer, pulpwood worker and truck driver. He has been convicted for burglary, drunkenness, carrying a concealed weapon and assault with intent to commit murder. The latter was a result of a knife attack on his common-law wife in 1956 for which he served two years in the Florida State Penitentiary. Whitfield cannot read or write.

Described as a belligerent individual who is incoherent when drinking, Whitfield should be considered armed and dangerous.

DESCRIPTION: Age, 44; Born, Monticello, Fla. (not supported by birth records); Height, 5 feet 6 inches to 5 feet 7 inches; Weight, 145 to 155; Build, medium; Hair, black, kinky. Mrs. Tom Renick Presents Program at Monday Club

Mrs. Tom Renick presented "The Tilted Cup" last night at the Monday Club session in the Trustees' Room of Memorial Hall.

Mrs. Clark Will presided during the business meeting. Mrs. Walter Sales was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. George Barnes, Miss Alice Ada May, Mrs. Tom Renick, Mrs. Louise Crawford, Mrs. S. M. Cryder, Mrs. Arthur McCoard and Mrs. R. R. Bales volunteered for clerical work at the next Bloodmobile visit at the First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Harry Heffner was appointed to serve as representative of the Monday Club to the Pickaway County Historical Society meeting January 16th.

Highlights of Mrs. Tom Renick's talk:

Horoscopes are based on the science of astrology which is the oldest science of which we have any knowledge; it is the foundation of every form of divination.

The first race of men to study the stars were the Chaldeans who inhabited what we call Arabia. Originally the Chaldeans were a nomadic race tending the flocks and herds by which they lived, and while watching the night skies they began to understand faintly, something of the movement of the stars. They noticed that the stars moved, or seemed to move slowly, and in fixed and certain groups which we call constellations.

Thus it was that the Chaldeans pondered the movements of the stars and presently realized that after a long interval the same set of stars appeared in exactly the same position on the left hand again.

After grasping these facts they began to measure the length of time which elapsed between the appearance of a constellation on the left hand of the sky and its return after it had disappeared on the right. In this calculation they made use of the moon and discovered that, roughly, 13 full moons made up this period of elapsed time.

For some reason the Chaldeans did not divide the heavens into thirteen portions as might have been expected from their study of the moon. Instead, they made maps or pictures of the stars as they went by and then divided the map into twelve parts which they called the Zodiac. The word means "A Belt" and the Zodiac is literally a belt of those constellations which surround our Earth as it moves through space.

From these calculations it was an easy step for the Chaldeans to count the 365 days which elapsed before the return of any one constellation. That was how they came to fix the length of a year and we have since added Leap year to take care of the excess of time in each twelve months.

In time, the Chaldeans, as they were called, became the most famous astrologers of their time and traveled to many parts of the known world teaching and employing their knowledge of the stars.

Until the time of Galileo, who died in 1642, no clear distinction was made between astrology and astronomy. Most students of the movements of the heavenly bodies were, more or less, astrologers.

Astrology continued to increase in credit till the middle of the 16th century. It was still practiced at European courts at the end of the 17th century and had a few devotees till the end of the 18th century even in England.

However, the invention of the telescope and the general establishment of the Copernican system, proving the Sun to be the center of the solar system, gradually displaced astrology for the benefit of true scientific knowledge. Thus it fell into ill repute being practiced mainly by fakers, star-gazers, and so called fortune tellers.

Since World War II there has been a definite "boom" in astrology. No one knows why, not even the astrologers. During this period, 1946-1960, the number of working astrologers in the United States has grown to more than 5000 and to the horror of many rational people, the number of star-struck customers has multiplied from about three million to more than ten million. Of this amazing number about a million religiously run their daily lives on celestial schedule, and pay thousands of dollars a year to funny little men in tall, pointy hats.

However, for centuries, the star-gazers have been predicting the end of the world but so far history has disappointed them. In fact, an eminent astrologer of the 16th century said that the end would come with a deluge in 1524. As it happened, there was a severe drought that year.

Most intelligent astrologers refuse to make detailed predictions because they agree that astrology has its limitations. It is a method of dealing with "the cosmic influence" or "the universal aspect," but these are vast generalizations of forces or forms and are not the only ones that influence human life. They determine tendencies but not events. For instance, neither death nor marriage can be definitely seen in the stars in spite of age-old legends to the contrary.

The greatest of the forces that confuse the cosmic picture is free will. Can this prevail over a pre-ordained fate?

In closing, Mrs. Renick said: Many centuries ago Saint Thomas Aquinas wrote:

"That the astrologers often foretell the future is only possible because the majority of men follow only their passions; for it is precisely the basic drives of human nature that are influenced by the heavenly bodies".

Paracelsus, the most famous physician of the 16th century, went further when he said, "The heavens affect the animal in man. But man should be a human being, and not an animal."

When man behaves like a human being "The stars impel; they do not compel".

Do-It-Yourself Decorations For Teens' and Tots' Rooms

What we like about the decorating projects suggested today is the fact that they're easily done by do-it-yourselfers.

Consider the teen - ager's room which is highlighted by a home-made lamp with a fascinating "book" base.

Actually, the base is a small wooden box that's been fitted with lamp parts (available at lamp and hardware stores).

"Books" are mailing tubes, split along the length, then cut to the right height to fit the open side of the box. Tape secures them in place, but doesn't show, for the box is then covered with vinyl stick on plastic which conceals it.

The stick - on plastic, in a tweed pattern, dresses up a plain lampshade and, in solid color, makes covers for "books". Titles are written with crayon.

Available in 75 patterns and colors, stick - on vinyl is quickly applied and clings in place securely. However, should you want to remove it, the plastic peels off easily.

The bulletin board was made by framing a piece of cork with wood molding that was glued together.

The storage bench is a goodsized wooden box that's been fitted with a hinged plywood top. The storage box into a bench. Vinyl with a hinged plywood top.

A two - inch thick foam rubber slab, cut to fit the box top, turns the storage box into a bench. Vinyl material, in a pattern that simulates natural leather, covers the foam. You can sew the material or glue it, as you prefer.

Vinyl - coated fabric covering, in a wood pattern, is used on walls. Do-it-yourself projects for a nursery setting include wall cut-outs, a novel play table, play stools and a chair.

The cut - outs - a clown, doll and fish - were drawn on brown paper, then patterns were traced on oilcloth. Special adhesive, designed for use with fabric wall coverings, was employed to fix cut-outs on wall which has been covered with a white vinyl - coated fabric that's scrubbable.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

You're Unbelievable, Dearie!

DEAR ABBY: I work in a tavern and have met lots of men. The one I love I met here four years ago. He says I am the only girl he's ever loved and if it weren't for his children and his religion he would get divorced and marry me.

His wife is a nagger and doesn't appreciate anything he does for her. He spends almost every night with me. How dumb can she be not to catch on? She keeps having one baby after another just to hold him. How can I get her to give up? Print this, she might take the hint.

STANDING PAT
DEAR STANDING: How dumb can YOU be? You're not taking the hint yourself. Your boyfriend's wife isn't having all those babies without some help from her husband. Obviously she has no intentions of giving up. Why don't you?

DEAR ABBY: My wife has needed to go on a diet for years but she kept putting it off. Suddenly she announced that she and a man who works with her are going to have a weight-losing contest. Whoever loses the most weight in six weeks has to take the other one out for a steak dinner. Just the two of them. I trust my wife but I don't like the idea of her going out and having a good time with another man. His wife is all for it because she wants him to lose weight. I'm glad my wife is finally going to diet but I don't like the way she's going about it. Am I making something out of nothing? Or should I go along with it and wish them luck?

JEALOUS HEART
DEAR JEALOUS: It sounds like a good-humored, wholesome contest with a healthy objective. Go along with them and wish them luck—and may the biggest loser win!

DEAR ABBY: If the general public could see the thousands upon thousands of important letters, expensive greeting cards, announcements of all kind, and priceless snapshots that are being fed into our incinerators every day, they'd soon realize that anything worth mailing is worth a legible return address.

ELsie (Dead Letter Office)
*CONFIDENTIAL TO JAMES: Go east, young man.

Vanderbilt '5' Shows Surprise Power on Court

13th Straight Win Chalked at Expense Of Kentucky Quint

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Vanderbilt's unbeaten Commodores, Hoosier-coached and Kentucky and Indiana fed have sailed into college basketball's elite under a fast-spreading South-eastern Conference formula: If you can't beat 'em, get 'em to come and join up!

The Commodores of Bob Polk packed with talent from Polk's home grounds of Indiana and bordering Kentucky, shot their winning streak to 13 and their season record to 11-0 Monday night at Nashville with a 64-62 victory over Adolph Rupp's Kentucky Wildcats.

Out of the lineup was Bobby (Bimbo) Bland, their playmaker and second leading scorer who has a shoulder separation that may sideline him three weeks. But Vandy still had enough other Hoosier and Blue Grass talent to get the job done. Squad members from Indiana contributed 35 points and Kentuckians 19 points—or 54 of the 64-pooling total.

Reaching up to Indiana and Kentucky for basketball prospects has become almost a habit in the SEC the last few years as opposing coaches sought to break Rupp's Kentuckians from their stranglehold on the championship.

Bill Depp, a 6-7 senior from Edinburg, Ind., Don Ringstaff, a 6-2 sophomore from Smithland, Ky., and Larry Banks, a 6-6 senior from Jeffersonville, Ind., were the big men in the feature of a national program in which top-ranked O'Leary State whipped Evansville 85-59 without Jerry Lucas, sixth-ranked Iowa rallied to beat Wisconsin, 76-68, and pesky Drake spilled St. Louis, 45-44.

Ohio State won its 11th of the season and 16th over a two-year span although All-America Lucas took the night off because of a twisted knee suffered against Illinois last Saturday. Larry Siegfried, with 21 points, and John Havlicek with 19 and Mel Newell with 16 more than took up the slack for big Luke Siegfried, with 7 straight free throws, now has hit 23 in a row in his last three games.

Iowa (10-1) ran its winning streak to eight with a 15-6 burst in the closing minutes after Wisconsin, 10 behind at the half, had taken a 62-61 lead. The Hawks did it without late help from Frank Allen, who scored 24 points and Don Nelson, who hit for 20. Allen fouled out and Nelson had to leave with a sprained foot and a deep head gash.

Drake nailed its 10th victory in 11 starts by building a 9-point lead and holding off a late St. Louis rally.

Johansson Says He's Cinch To Win

GÖTEBORG, Sweden (AP)—Ingemar Johansson flatly predicted today he would win back the world heavyweight championship when he meets Floyd Patterson for the third time.

"This fight I will win," said Ingo before heading for his Geneva training camp. "I know what mistakes I made the last time. And I know how to avoid them."

"I also learned a couple of other things from the movies that will help me win."

Johansson, who was knocked out by Patterson in the fifth round of their last title fight, will spend a week in Geneva working before heading for New York on Jan. 16.

He already is in serious training and has been doing seven miles a day in road work and has been boxing almost 20 rounds a day.

Rookies Tommy Davis of Los Angeles and Frank Herrera of Philadelphia had 20 game hitting streaks last year.

SKULL PRACTICE—Navy's star halfback Joe Bellino is about to pass a gift football to President-elect Kennedy in the latter's home in Washington. Bellino's visit came about like this: After receiving the Heisman trophy in New York, Bellino said it would wind up a perfect football year if he were invited to lunch with Kennedy, seeing as how both are from Massachusetts. Kennedy heard about the remark and invited Bellino and several other Navy gridders to dinner.

Friday Will Be Busy Cage Night

Basketball involving teams of this area will be sparked by 11 games Friday night.

Leading the pack will be Circleville's SCO test at Greenfield McClain. Also high on the docket are three Pickaway County league tilts.

County loop games will find Ashville at Scioto, Monroe at Jackson and Darby at Walnut. Outside the circuit Logan Elm, the league leader, goes to Bremen and Williamsport entertains Ohio Deaf.

Amanda - Clearcreek, still in the thick of the fight for the Fairfield County crown, will entertain Carroll in a league test.

TWO Ross County loop contests of interest will have front running Unioto at Centralia and Kingston at Southeastern.

A Darby Valley league contest slates Jonathan Alder at The Plains of Mt. Sterling. A non-loop fracas lists Laurelville hosting Shawnee.

Ashville, one of the county league contenders, may face a battle at Scioto, a team which has won three in a row after a slow start.

Darby, rebuilding this year, will find Walnut a tough nut to crack. The Tigers have lost only three games this season and are always hard to beat on their home floor.

The Monroe - Jackson meeting could develop into a real struggle. Jackson won an earlier non-league meeting, but the Indians are capable of turning the tables.

The cage schedule continues Saturday night with six games on the card. Cedarville travels to Ashville for a Darby Valley League test, Lancaster BIS travels to Darby, Scioto entertains Holy Family, Walnut hosts Centralia. Williamsport goes to Kingston and Portsmouth Clay comes to Laurelville.

White was sidelined by a knee injury last September, but after an operation, returned to play in November.

His next sting will be in the Army, however; he left Monday for Ft. Knox, Ky., to start a six month tour of duty.

White said Houston's new football-baseball stadium, to be ready in 1962, will have a translucent top.

"Boy, that will be great," he said. "Then maybe we won't have to play in the rain anymore. Seems like it was always raining when we were playing."

"Outside of a few showers, Texas was great except for one thing. Who ever heard of mosquitoes in December?"

Goalby Pockets L.A. Open Cash

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Bob Goalby, voted golf's "freshman of the year" as a professional in 1958, today earned another diploma as a winner.

The 29-year-old Goalby headed for the San Diego Open this weekend with $7,500 in the bank as the not-so-surprising winner of the $45,000 Los Angeles Open.

The handsome 6-footer, who stayed in contention in the early rounds with a 67-70-71 climaxed his bid with a brilliant 67 and a 72-hole total of 275.

Goalby wore down seasoned Paul Harney in a head-to-head duel.

Buckeyes Keep No. 1 Rating

OSU Is Unanimous Choice of Experts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Mighty Ohio State, continuing to roll over its rivals with monotonous ease, was the unanimous choice again today for the third straight week as the nation's No. 1 college basketball team in the weekly Associated Press poll.

The unbeaten Buckeyes, who made Illinois its 10th straight victim, 91-65, last week, gobbled up all 36 votes from the nationwide panel of sports writers and sportscasters to retain easily the top spot it took over in the first ballooning five weeks ago.

Bradley, another of the nation's four unbeaten major colleges, clung to second place by a comfortable margin over third-ranked St. Bonaventure (11-1) and fourth-ranked Louisville (13-0).

St. John's of New York (9-1) held on to fifth place and Iowa (9-2) advanced a notch into sixth place, replacing North Carolina (8-2).

On the basis of 10 points for first, nine for second, eight for third, etc., Ohio State received a perfect 360-point score. Bradley's total was 314 to 265 for St. Bonaventure and 252 for Louisville. St. John's 178 points was only 11 more than Iowa.

Williams Favored In Women's Test

ORMOND BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Barbara Williams of Richmond, Calif., is the favorite to win the 32nd annual Women's South Atlantic Amateur Golf Tournament opening today.

She was runner-up last year to Barbara McIntyre of Lake Park, Fla., who is ill and can't defend her championships. The 1959 winner, Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore, also is missing because of a back injury.

About 70 are entered for today's 18-hole qualifying round over the 6,909-yard par 74 Ellinor Village Country Club course. The low qualifiers compete at match play Wednesday through Saturday.

Braves Bomb Carroll for Ninth Win

Logan Elm won its ninth game in 10 starts Saturday night by handing visiting Carroll a 58-53 defeat.

Logan Elm moved to a 24-21 halftime lead after overcoming an earlier Carroll advantage which stood at 10-6 at the end of the first quarter.

Denny Valentine of the Braves zeroed in from the side to rake the nets for 19 points. Chuck Spangler, Roger Clarke and Butch Willey fired for 11 each.

Boling was high man for Carroll with 19 points. Davis and Bigam hit 12 each.

LOGAN Elm cleared the path for two victories, taking a 29-24 decision.

The rampaging Braves still lead the Pickaway County League with four victories and no losses. They are scheduled Friday at Bremen in a non-league test.

Lucasless-Bucks Still Romp Over Hapless Hoosier Quint

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Just how much does Jerry Lucas mean to Ohio State's No. 1 rated basketball team?

Well, without him Monday night: The Buckeyes beat Evansville just about as bad as might have been expected with Big Luke in the lineup: 86-59.

The Buckeyes, despite the absence of the nation's leading rebounder, hauled down five off the backboards to every three Evansville managed to get.

But minus Lucas' 64 per cent season average field goal accuracy, the Bucks wound up with their poorest marksmanship mark in many a moon: Just .386, on 34 of 88 field goal tries. Against tougher opposition, that could hurt. But the Purple Aces made just 23 of 66 shots for a .348 percentage, and their inability to get rebounds kept them from getting enough tries at the basket to do much damage.

Sharp outside shooting by the Hoosier club in the early stages kept it close for 12 minutes. Then Ohio broke it up and went winging to its 11th victory of the season without defeat.

The game served as a tuneup for the Bucks' next Big Ten appearance, at Northwestern Saturday night. Lucas, on the bench in uniform, sat it out to rest the knee he bumped in last Saturday night's fray with Illinois. Coach Fred Taylor hopes it will be healed sufficiently for the All-American center to start against the Wildcats. Top-line sub Gary Gearhart also missed the Evansville action with a sore knee.

Larry Siegfried, straining up seven free throws in seven tries emerged from the Lucas shadow to take high point honors with 21. He's now made 23 fouls in a row over three games. John Havlicek was close behind with 19 points and led the rebounders with 16. Mel Nowell scored 16 points.

Sophomore Kenny Lee, starting in place of Lucas, managed seven points, and his relief, Doug McDonald, came up with six playing a relatively short time.

From a 20-20 tie, OSU jumped out to a 39-29 halftime lead, then iced it with 10 straight points at the outset of the second half.

Evansville has now lost nine of 14—but for comparison, the Aces lost to Ohio's Big Ten rivals Iowa by 12 points and Purdue by 9. The Buckeyes took them by 27—without their big man.

How good is OSU without Lucas? The jury is still out—and Buckeye rooters hope there never has to be a verdict, that the 6-8 star will be in the lineup for all the major tests to come.

Elsewhere in Ohio college basketball Monday night, Youngstown improved its record to a nifty 10-2 by defeating Morris Harvey (W. Va.) 83-74, but three other state quintets lost to foreign foes. By identical 69-66 scores, Steubenville lost to St. Vincent (Pa.) and Marietta to West Virginia Tech. Cumberland (Ky.) downed Rio Grande 93-64.

Purdue Ace Adds To Big Ten Lead

CHICAGO (AP)—Purdue's Terry Dischinger added to his Big Ten all-games scoring lead this week, averaging better than two points a game more than All-America Jerry Lucas of Ohio State.

Dischinger has 284 points in 10 games for a 28.4 average while Lucas is hitting at a 26.3 clip with 263 points in 10 games. Lucas managed to get ahead of Don Nelson of Iowa who dropped to third with 268 points in 11 games for a 24.3 average.

Walt Bellamy of Indiana and John Tidwell of Michigan are the only other Big Ten players averaging better than 20 points per game. Bellamy has a 22.5 average, Tidwell a 20.2 mark.

Shepherd, Zahard Pace Prairie Dogs

Charlie Shepherd of Eagles rolled a 224 single game and Walt Zahard of Ankrom Lumber piled up a 564 series to apark Prairie Dogs bowling last night at Prairie Lanes.

High team single game went to Eagles on a 979. Ankrom's wrapped up the series with 2,762.

Tiger Cagers Billed Tonight At Heights

Circleville's cage squad goes after its second win in a row tonight at Franklin Heights.

The Tigers polished off Paint Valley Saturday night and hope to follow the same pattern tonight. The locals also will be after their second win in the South Central League.

Franklin Heights showing improvement as the season progresses, knocked off Pleasant View Friday, 52-45. Earlier the Tigers dropped a 57-42 test to Pleasant View.

Circleville's victory over Paint Valley was one of the few games the Tigers didn't run into serious personal foul troubles. The locals also showed improvement on defense.

OTHER factors in the win included the steady performance of Clesson Thomas, a sophomore, and the needed shooting from outside by Luther Johnson.

Coach Dick Snouffer's starting lineup tonight probably will fall around Sam Weller, Dick Kline, Thomas, Johnson, Garold Dade and Jimmie Wellington.

Looking for their sixth win in nine starts will be Coach Jack Weikert's reserve crew. The preliminary game will start at 7 p. m. at the Demarest Road School.

Chamberlain Sets Pro Scoring Pace

NEW YORK (AP)—Unstoppable Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain of the Philadelphia Warriors has reached the halfway mark of the National Basketball Association season scoring at a pace well ahead of the one that carried him to a record last year.

Figures from the NBA today showed Chamberlain with 1,481 points in 39 games for a 38.0 average. In his rookie year last season, the 7-foot-1 Warrior ace established eight records—among them total points (2,707) and per game average (37.6). His current pace would enable him to top last year's total by more than 300 points.

Wilt, averaging 49 points in his last five games, edged ahead of Los Angeles' Elgin Baylor in total points although he has played three fewer games than Baylor. In 42 games Baylor has scored 1,444 points for a 34.4 average.

Lippy Leo Is Hired as Dodger Coach

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It wasn't long ago that Leo Durocher was saying there was a conspiracy among owners to keep him out of baseball.

Today he is back in the game—as a coach of the Los Angeles Dodgers but under warning from General Manager Buzzie Bavasi that under no circumstances is he to second-guess Dodger Manager Walt Alston.

Durocher spoke his lines very well at Monday's news conference.

Asked if he considered his new coaching job a stepping stone to another major league managerial post, the Lip, 54, told reporters: "I'm not looking for anything. I'm happy with the Dodgers, and that's it. I'm just a coach. Alston's the manager, and I think he's the greatest in the business."

In spite of that frank statement by Durocher, who led the Dodgers to a pennant in 1941 and subsequently managed the New York Giants to two pennants and a World Series, Bavasi decided on further emphasis.

"The first time there is any second guessing, that's it," he warned.

Durocher, once one of the top-salaried managers, reportedly will receive $17,500. He said he was so happy to return to baseball after a six-year layoff that he hadn't discussed terms with Bavasi.

AUSCHWITZ CHIEF—Former S.S. Maj. Richard Baer, now 49, the last commander of the infamous concentration camp at Auschwitz, Poland, arrives in Frankfurt, Germany, after being caught working as a woodcutter near Hamburg. Thus ends a 15-year hideout. Police got him by following his wife, also arrested. Baer ran Auschwitz from May 1944 to January 1945, when gasings of Jews were heaviest.

New Selection Plan OK'd for All-Star Test

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Every section of the state will be represented on the all-star squads in the annual North - South high school basketball game next June 17 at Cuyahoga Falls.

A new selection system, adopted here by directors of the Ohio High School Basketball Coaches Association eliminates block voting and places greater emphasis on players named to the Associated Press all-state squad.

Under the old plan the more populous areas were able to dominate the selections through block voting. But the new format, under which each half of the state is divided into eight districts, decrees that one player must come from each.

The coaches in each district will name their representative, each picking five players. The player gets one point for each coach's vote. But those making the All-Ohio will get an added 15 points if chosen for the first team, 10 for second and 5 for third. Points equal to the difference between the games won and lost also will be given each player.

The Cuyahoga Falls sponsors will select two players, one from Class A and one from Class AA, and the upstate all-star coaches will select another two to round out the 11-man Yankee squad.

Rebel coaches will select three players, one of whom must be from Class A. Players named, in addition to those picked from each district, must come from the All-Ohio first three teams — unless that reservoir is exhausted.

The players and coaches for the North-South game will be named shortly after the state tournament in late March.

Starling Chaser Seeks Youngstown Payment

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—The Kansas birdman, Otto Standke, who came here a year ago with his mysterious little black box to rid downtown buildings of bothersome starlings, has advised Mahoning County Commissioners he will return later this month to collect overdue fees. Standke says he will sue because the commissioners cancelled their contracts after the second payment.

During his visit he rid the courthouse and some other buildings of starlings, but after he left the birds soon returned to old roosting places. "Strange birds," said Standke of the current nuisances, allegedly not the ones he chased away.

Olney Grabs Tournery Title

Dave Olney captured the winner's spot in the Merchants Holiday bowling tournament conducted at Circle D Recreation.

Olney shot a 1,086 in the preliminaries and 1,209 in the finals for a grand average of 191. Junior Fowler finished second in the running.

Third place in the tourney went to Mike Brown. On down the line it was Bill Dietrich, Tom Eveland, Glen Weller, Owen Fuller and Rick Spiers.

Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves batted only .292 last season after a .355 campaign in 1959, but in 1960 he led the National League with 126 runs batted in.

Ohio Assembly Hears Review By Governor

Aside from Senate passage of the massive, House-approved bill to make hundreds of corrections in the Ohio Revised Code, the legislature Monday generally marked time. Senate approval of the emergency bill with the sole objection of Sen. John W. Brown, R-Medina, the former interim governor, sends the measure to the desk of DiSalle to be effective upon his signature.

The House, in an evening session in the wake of the Senate's passage of the corrective bill, did nothing but accept the Senate's minor amendments by a unanimous vote. DiSalle probably will sign the bill late today.

That signature will loose the bill-introduction floodgate.

Proposed bills are stacked like firewood at the door of each legislative chamber. The first flurry of introduction might produce as many as 100 in the House and 50 in the Senate. The ultimate total before the bill introduction deadline—probably early in March—is likely to be lower than the record 1,602 introduced two years ago.

Brown objected both in the Senate Judiciary Committee and on the floor to the corrective bill of 705 pages. He said it was unnecessary. Later in the session, he asserted, changes will be made in affected sessions to the point where the original bill will be obliterated.

Other Democrats and Republicans in a Senate divided 20-18, however, agreed it would be better to adopt a corrective bill each two or four years than to let corrections "ride" for 30 to 40 years.

The Senate received these major appointments to the governor's cabinet:

James T. Welsh of Columbus as director of the State Personnel Department for a term ending in February 1965.

Miss Frances McGovern of Akron as a member of the Utilities Commission for a term ending in February 1967.

Theodore Kauer of Columbus as director of the Department of Public Works for a term ending next Dec. 31.

2 Ohio Pen Escapees Due Back in Cells

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two of the three Ohio Penitentiary escapees who walked off from a snow shoveling detail Dec. 21 and are being returned from Englewood, N. J., will face charges of escape and auto theft. The third escapee is still at large.

James Donald Thornton, 22, and Russell Thomas Freeland, 32, were nabbed by FBI agents as they strolled along an Englewood street last weekend.

Both Thornton and Freeland face prosecution on charges of escape, which carries a 1-5 year sentence, and auto theft. Freeland also will be charged with taking $2,404 from the prison business office just prior to the escape.

The two men, along with Warren Simones, 38, fled the penitentiary in a car belonging to a deputy warden. Thornton was serving a life sentence for a murder committed during an armed robbery at Wapakoneta in 1956; Freeland was serving a 10-25 year term for armed robbery in Cleveland and Simones, of Cleveland, was serving a sentence for house breaking.

One-Man Exhibit At Local Store

An exhibit of paintings by Mrs. Robert W. Hutzelman, 612 Guilford Road, is the first of a series of one-man shows to be held at the Sherwin Williams Co. 113 S. Court St.

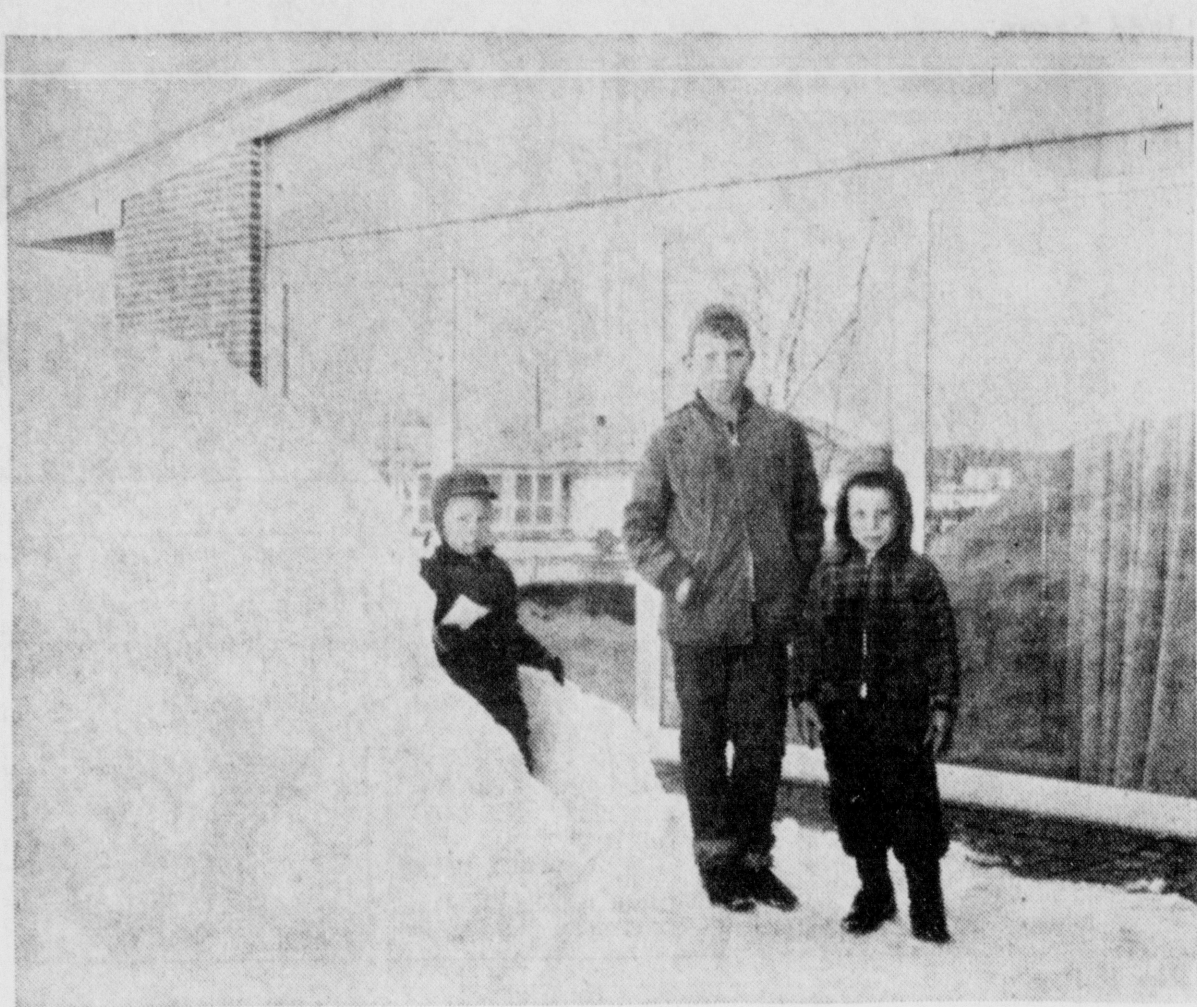

Charles P. Mowery, manager of the store, and Mrs. Otis Runyon, new president of the Circleville Art League, are working together to keep local art before the public.

Each exhibit will hang for one month. Paintings will be priced for sale.

Mrs. Hutzelman's work will be on exhibit until February 9. She won the Grand Prize of the 1960 Pumpkin Show on her "Ohio's Giant" and has won many other awards on paintings in the past.

She is a past president of the Art League. She has just been elected treasurer of the league for the coming year.

U.S. Treasury Is Now Facing Troublesome Silver Situation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Treasury, already beset by a gold problem, is facing a troublesome silver situation.

By mid-1963, if present trends were to continue, the department would lose its long-standing power to dictate the international price of silver.

Should that happen you might have to pay more for wide variety of items ranging from silver jewelry to photographic film.

An increase in the price of silver also could affect coinage in many parts of the world. Some countries might find their silver coins worth more in silver than coins and toss them into the melting pot.

Balanced against these effects would be bigger profit margins for silver mining companies which presumably would expand production and payrolls.

International discussion of the silver situation has been prompted by mounting evidence that the Treasury's grip on the international silver market has been weakening.

The Treasury puts a ceiling on the price by maintaining a stockpile from which it sells to silver users. Its current selling price is about 91½ cents an ounce. Obviously, users refuse to pay more elsewhere so long as the Treasury sticks to this price.

During 1960, the Treasury stockpile was reduced by 5½ million ounces and on Jan. 1 stood at 123½ million ounces. So far this month, there has been a further reduction of more than 1 million ounces. At this rate, the supply would be gone by mid-1963.

Should the stockpile run dry, the Treasury would lose its power to dictate the price of silver. Furthermore, since the stockpile also furnishes the 40 million ounces used each year to mint new U.S. coins, the department would have to go into the market to buy silver.

In the present supply and demand situation, the price of silver would rise if the Treasury ceiling were broken. The upward price pressure stems largely from strikes which cut production in 1959 and 1960, coupled with big silver purchases by France which has adopted a heavy silver franc. In addition, the mint is using more silver for coinage and industrial uses are expanding.

One reason the Treasury hasn't been anxious to boost its fixed price is that the biggest benefits would go to foreigners. The United States uses about 100 million ounces of silver a year, of which about 65 million ounces are imported.

U.S. Ruled as Not Liable To Pay Dixon-Yates Damages

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has decided the United States need not pay $1,867,545 damages for cancellation of the controversial Dixon-Yates power plant contract.

Chief Justice Warren delivered the 6-3 decision.

Justice Harlan wrote a dissenting opinion in which Justices Whitaker and Stewart joined.

The tribunal ruled on a government appeal from a decision by the U.S. Court of Claims, awarding the amount to the Dixon-Yates combine for its expenditures on the project before President Eisenhower canceled the contract in 1955.

Signed in 1954, the contract touched off a fight between private and public power interests in the Tennessee Valley Authority area. The argument became a political issue, and there was a congressional investigation.

J. Lee Rankin, U.S. solicitor general, argued before the Supreme Court that the contract was unenforceable and the government was not liable because of a conflict of interest on the part of one of those taking part for the government in negotiations for the contract.

Adolphe Wenzell, a New York investment banker, served as consultant to the Budget Bureau during the negotiations. At the time, he also was a vice president of the First Boston Corp. which eventually became interested in the financing of the power plant.

Counsel for Dixon-Yates told the high court that Dixon-Yates early in the negotiations had called attention to a possible conflict of interest and suggested that Wenzell withdraw but the government permitted Wenzell to continue. There was no agreement or understanding, the counsel said, that Dixon-Yates would go to First Boston for its financing.

In making a claim against the government, the combine said it sought only to recover out-of-pocket costs.

Warren, for the court majority, said the government may disaffirm a contract which is "infected by an illegal conflict of interests."

He added that this is true "even though the conflict of interest was caused or condoned by high government officials."

A contract for a steam plant at West Memphis, Ark., was signed by the Atomic Energy Commission and the Dixon-Yates group, formally known as the Mississippi Valley Generating Co. Later the city of Memphis decided to build its own plant. In canceling the Dixon-Yates contract, Eisenhower said the city's decision ended the need for a private plant.

Mississippi Valley Generating Co. was set up jointly by Middle South Utilities, Inc., headed by Edgar H. Dixon, and by Southern Co., headed by Eugene A. Yates who has since died.

Ike Leads Cheers for Friend Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon's political stock has been strengthened by a birthday tribute in which President Eisenhower led the cheering section.

The occasion was a 48th anniversary celebration Monday night at which Eisenhower praised the defeated 1960 presidential candidate for services "invaluable to government." He said Nixon was "a warm friend."

More than 1,000 Republicans paid $12.50 per seat for a dinner party honoring Nixon and his wife Pat. The party, sponsored by the Republican Capitol Hill Club, was held in a downtown hotel.

Nixon, who lost one of history's closest presidential contests in November to John F. Kennedy, assured his admirers he would do everything in his power for the Republican party in the years ahead.

5-County Cincy Area Health Combine Talked

CINCINNATI (AP)—Health officials of five counties of Greater Cincinnati want to join forces to watch outbreaks of contagious diseases in their areas. The health officers Monday set up a committee to establish a central reporting program and make a study of their population. The counties are Hamilton and Clermont in Ohio, and Kenton, Campbell and Boone in Kentucky.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (identical breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

miles between lubrications

30,000 is the most famous number of the year. It's every '61 Ford owner's license to save. How can Ford do it? Conventional chassis lubrication fittings have been replaced with metal plugs that help protect each lubrication point against abrasive mud, dirt and dust. And then, for only about $4 and about 20 minutes your Ford is ready for another 30,000! This is just one of the many ways the '61 Ford is built to take care of itself. Your Ford Dealer can show you more.

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF

Lubricates itself—You'll normally go 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications (which cost only about $4.00 and take about 20 minutes) because Ford has replaced conventional grease fittings with a sealed-in lubrication system.

Cleans its own oil—You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes because Ford's Full-Flow oil filter gives you filtration through fibers . . . trapping more dirt than any other type of filter made.

Adjusts its own brakes—New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves—automatically.

Guards its own muffler—Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminized to last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.

Protects its own body—All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing the body panels beneath the doors.

Takes care of its own finish—Just wash and clean Ford's new Diamond Lustre Finish and it continues to gleam like new. It never needs waxing.

Only FORD is beautifully built to take care of itself
